Cancellation Policy: If you need to cancel, please let us know asap. Refunds will only be offered if your spot can be filled from waiting list.

You will be notified by email if you get a spot or are placed on the waiting list. Confirmations will be sent out once we receive a completed registration form along with payment in full. To secure a spot, payment must be made in full prior to the date of the workshop. We will maintain a wait list up until the day before the seminar. You must pre-register. Walk-ins are not permitted.

Facility: Bring your own crates – cat and bird crates should be big enough for a litter box or perch – this would be the same setup you'd use to transport them to set. You must bring a mat or floor cover to go underneath your grooming table, crate, and chair to help protect our mats. Chairs will be available or bring your own. Please use designated potty areas and clean up after your animal, inside and outside.

Food: we will provide light breakfast, water, and lunch. Menu will be emailed a few days before the workshop so you can select your choice of sandwich or salad. We will break for one hour for lunch, which will be served on site. For animals, please bring a selection of different, very small, high value treats.

Parking: Parking is available on site at no cost.

Videotaping: Only limited videotaping will be permitted. You may also tape your own session ONLY, with your own equipment (but not lecture portions or other peoples' working sessions, without their permission).

Headshots: A professional photographer will be present to take headshots of your animal. For birds, please provide your own perch. One digital headshot is included in the price of the workshop. Clients may purchase additional photos directly from the photographer.

If you are feeling sick, or have felt sick, or had a fever in the 14 days prior to the workshop dates we ask that you not register for it or attend.

If you have already registered and start to feel sick, please contact Olivia Vescovo: olivia@htmanimaltalent.com
